

RDM Industrial Electronics Inc. purchases the assets of competitor Nationwide Petroleum Rebuilders

On January 5, 2010, RDM Industrial Electronics Inc., of Nebo, NC, and Lakewood, CO, purchased the assets of competitor Nationwide Petroleum Rebuilders of Tuscon, AZ. RDM is "a rebuilder you can count on™," and for over 22 years has been the industry's most reliable source of remanufactured petroleum and car wash electronic equipment. RDM focuses on providing customers with durable products and top value, and is a low-cost alternative to buying expensive new parts from the manufacturer. Product offerings include: electronic circuit boards, printers, POS systems, consoles, card readers, car wash equipment, tank monitors, touchpads, overlays, optical encoders, and rebuilt pumps and dispensers.

Remanufactured equipment is an environmentally friendly option for the petroleum industry. Don't throw away those cores! Email lists of cores for sale to coreman@rdm.net.

Having two locations allows RDM to reach most of the United States within two days via ground shipping. Because most orders are available for same-day shipping, RDM's customers receive orders in days, instead of weeks!
